

RED FM, Cork – PREGMANCY

Seamus & Jason's Pregnancy

It's true the boys are pregnant...5 and half months to be exact, we've dubbed it their 'PREGMANCY'

Basically what happened on this mornings show was I decided that it would be a good idea for the boys to feel what its really like to be pregnant although I've never been actually pregnant myself at some stage in my lifetime I maybe...unlike the lads.

So with Jason already a father to Daisy who's almost 2 and another Bambino on the way and Seamus about to tie the knot with his other half, I set them the challenge of wearing prosthetic baby bumps for the next 24 hours!! Little did I realise when I cooked up this plan that it could backfire...the lads are the most demanding, hormonal,craving,whinging pregnant men I've ever met 😊 I'm dreading the next 24 hours as it looks as though I may need to pander to their ever pregnant need.

I'm taking the boys off to get some maternity wear now then we've got various other challenges to fulfill today...Hear how we get on tomorrow morning for 6am!

Wish me luck
